Pittsburg, Pa., July 13.-George Gould with a party of Wabash and Missouri Pacific officials spent the time here today in inspecting the Wabash extension to this city, in an interview said:

"It is our purpose to weld the Wabash roads into one grand system before long that will reach from Ogden, Utah, and El Paso at the Mexican border, thence to Kansas City, St. Louis and Baltimore. We intend to make the latter city our seaport on the Atlantic. It is a magnificent one, but has been neglected. We propose to develop and make it a great port. We do not intend to go to New York. There is more eclat in a trunk line into the metropolis, of course, but it is too expensive as a freight ex-porting terminal. Baltimore is the best port on the Atlantic for the exporting such commodities as will make our tonnage-coal, grain and packing bouse products."

Y, M. C. A. AT HELPER. Railroad Institution to be Erected For D. & R. G. Employes.

Through the generosity of George Foster Peabody and Gen. Palmer, who upon retiring from the Rio Grande Western when the property was sold to George J. Gould, set aside $40,000 for the purpose, the miners at Clear Creek Castle Gate, Sunnyside and Winter Quarters will shortly have hospitals a the points named. Work has been start ed upon these and it is well under way at each place. While the structures wil be lumber buildings, nevertheless they will be fitted with modern appliances and will be up to date. This step will be a great boon, as when a man is in-jured in the mines it will be no longer necessary to bring him into Salt Lake for attention and treatment.

In addition these gentlemen are rebrick four stories in height which is to be erected at Helper as a railroad Y. M. C. A. The site for the building has been secured. In connection with the building there will be sleeping quarters for trainmen. The railroad company has for years provided a free library and billiard rooms above the depot. These are to be merged into the Y. M. A. proposition and the room vacated will be given over to the train dispatchers and other officials of the Rio

ON TO ST. GEORGE. Electric Line from Milford to Washlugton County Via Cedar.

Milford and Dixie are to be connected by an electric ratiroad, according to the plans of George E. Lane, the Milford mining operator, who says enterprise and that work will be commenced in 90 days. The line will be 130 miles long and will go by way of Beaver and Parowan, running four miles west of Cedar, and on to St.

George.

Eight thousand horsepower will be developed in the Beaver canyon, at Parovan and at the Rio Virgin falls, and appropriations of the water are to be made at once. Sixty horsepower motors are to be used, by the overhead trolley system, and the trip from Milford to St. George will be made in 10 hours. Much of this line will be through comparatively level valleys, but in comparatively level valleys, but in some places switch-backs will be nec-essary and the grades will be heavier than could be possibly hadled by a

The estimated cost of the project is three and a half millions and a comtal of seven and a half millions. Mr. Lane states that one of the parties back of the enterprise asurred him that he could raise $750,000 for it within 60 days, and the syndicate has guaranteed that the entire amount will be

HOLDUPS BUSY AGAIN. Four Masked Men Rob Freight

Train Tourists on Short Line. The holdup industry on freight trains is still in full swing on the Utah di-vision of the Short Line, and if this thing continues the victims will possibly come to the conclusion that it eaper to buy a ticket in the long run Yesterday afternoon four masked men went through a southbound freignt shortly after the train left Ogden. The robbers secured two silver watches and the munificent sum of $5.80 in cash. This haul was made from four min were beating their way from Butte to De Lamar. The men, whose names were . F. Keating, R. Bonds, Henry Kuthe and Richard Youman, were stealing a ride in an empty coal car when four masked men climbed over the end and thrusting as many revolvers under their respective noses ordered "hands up." All obeyed with alacrity. The robbers then left the car and star hunting for more easy things. They were seen to jump from the train as he freight entered the city limits. The vic-tims reported the matter to he police and they spent a couple of hours last night in rounding up the saloons in the hope of finding the men. They did not

HENRY WAGENER CALLED HENCE

Old Resident and Well Known Business Man Crosses Dark River.

HAD SUFFERED FOR YEARS

From Complication of Diseases - Was A Man of Generous Nature and Many Good Traits.

Henry Wagener, an old-time resident of Sait Lake City, familiarly known throughout Utah and surrounding states as the founder and president of the Wagener Brewing company, and associated from early days with the business interests of this state, died at the family residence about 8 o'clock last night after a lingering illness covering nearly seven years, from a complication of dropsy and Bright's disease. The deceased was 65 years of age, and leaves a wife and seven children, all of whom were at the bedside when the final summons came.

In the early part of his business career Mr. Wagener was quite successful and amassed a comfortable fortune, but in 1896 he met with heavy financial reverses, which seemed to well nigh crush him. Soon after his health began to break, first from an attack of rheumatism, which was followed by Bright's disease, from which he has suffered more or less ever since. To a man of such push and activity as he, the long illness which practically retired him from business life, was very trying, but he bore it with that resignation and cheerfulness for which he was noted. A short time previous to his death he appeared to be much improved in this they were doomed to disap-pointment, for a turn for the worse soon followed, and he grew steadily weaker until the end came, as stated

Henry Wagener was born Aug. 30, 1838, in Eimshorn, Holstein, Germany, When 20 years of age he emigrated to America, settling first at Colona, Cal., where he engaged in the brewery busi-ness. He came to Utah in 1864 and soon after his arrival here established a brewery at the mouth of Emigration canyon, which he conducted successfully for more than thirty years, or until 1896, when he retired from active busi-

Mr. Wagener was married on June 27, 1863, at Carson City, Nev., to Mar-garethe Englebrecht, and to their ungarethe Engiebrecht, and to their un-tion nine children were born. Two of the children, Henry and Pauline, died in 1878, aged 10 and 5 years re-spectively. An interesting fact in this connection is that the last words spo-ken by Mr. Wagener before he died were in relation to the little ones who had gone before twenty-five years ago. The deceased was prominent as a Templar and a Shriner. He was made in the spring of 1868, and served as treasurer of this lodge from 1870 to 1878. He was also an honored member of the A. C. U. W. lodge. The funeral will be under the auspices of the Knights Templar.

Although Mr. Wagener is best known as the founder of the famous brewery bearing his name, he was a public spirited man and interested in many other enterprises. He had an enviable repu tation for his liberality and generosity not only by his family but by many ity the recipients of substantial acts f kindness at his hands. Those who were intimately acquainted with Mr. Wagener in his life time will agree with the following tribute by Mr. Christopher Diehl, an old-time friend

A FRIEND'S TRIBUTE.

"Henry Wagener in the early days progressive business men I ever knew. He was an enterprising citizen in every respect. His money was equally free or charity or for any enterprise or provement calculated to benefit the city. There was never a better man or one with a warmer heart. He was a true citizen in every sense, liberal even to a fault. I never knew a man who had so many friends or one who gave them so much and asked so little in

MRS. PITCHER'S ANSWER. Admits Entering Into Ante-Nuptial Contract With Husband.

Charlotte J. Pitcher, who some time ago filed a seperate maintenance suit against her husband, Frederick W Pitcher, this afternoon filed an answer to the cross-complaint of her hushand. She admits that she entered into an ante-nuptial contract with her hus band the day before they were married, in which contract she agreed to relinquish all of her rights in his estate in case of his death or any right to all mony in case of a separation for the consideration of $3,000, and her husband agreed to relinquish all his rights to any interest in her estate in case of her death for $1,000. Mrs. Pitcher alleges that the contract was to run only on year after their marriage, and says sh was supposed to sign the agreement without knowing its contents while he nusband threatened to ruin her reputa on and destroy her social standing She therefore claims that the agree ment is null and vold. She further alleges that her husband treated he cruelly and on several occasions threat ened to kill her. He has never contrib uted anything tor her support. She asks, therefore, that she be allowed $500 per month as separate maintenance, as she asks in her original complaint.

THE "SEEING CAR" TODAY.

Saltair is Engaging Their Attention This Afternoon-Choir and Organ Recital Tonight.

Representatives of the National Edi torial association, with members of their families to the number of considerable, nearly 200 are in Salt Lake today. They came from Omaha in two sections, the first arriving yesterday and the second this morning.

The entire party is chaperoned by W

. Kline of the Amsterdam (N. Y.) Daily Recorder, who came in with yesterday's arrivals. Mr. Kline was for mer president of the New York State association and in that capacity welcomed the national association at the Buffalo exposition two years ago. He looks after all matters of transportation and his frank on telegrams is good over the Western Union system. The two cars that came in this morning were under the direct superintendency of C. B. McCoy of the Cashockton (O.) Age. I. E. Diehl of the Mammoth Record, the only representative of the Utah Press association at Omaha came in with the last section.

The visitors are mostly quartered at the Knutsford, Kenyon, and Wilson hotels. They are a fine looking body of intelligent men and women and represent 27 states of the Union. They were tendered an informal reception at the Kenyon this morning by President Felt and other members of the Utah associaion and various representatives of the city press. Shortly after 11 o'clock they started about the city in an observation or Salt Lake Seeing car, the trip lasting over two hours. At 2:20 this afternoon they took the train for Saltair, where they will remain for the balance of the day returning for the choir and organ recital at the Tabernacle at 8:20 to-night. Judge W. H. King will deliver an address on Utah.

A noted personage among the visitors is A. O. Bunnell of the Danville (N. Y.) Advertiser. Mr. Bunnell is both a veteran and an importan factor in ediveteran and an importan factor in eu-torial association work. At the recent meeting he read a paper on "Fifty Years in a Printing Office," as this is his jubilee at the business. He has been president of the national association, and for 36 years has been secretary and treasurer of his state. He also is secretary and treasurer of the national Re-publican association, and of the Republican association of New York. He be-gan as a printer's devil 50 years ago at the age of 16 years.

SOUTH TEMPLE

Compromise Plan Drawn Up by

PROPERTY OWNERS APPROVE

Contains Some of the Best Features of Both Daty and Wall Schemes And Will Likely be Adopted.

A compromise plan for the paving of South Temple street has been drawn up by City Engineer Kelsey and approved by the committee of property owners appointed to confer with him for that purpose. The plan contains a number of the best features of both the J. J. Daly and Col. Wall plans, and in all probability it will be adopted by the ouncil at its meeting tonight. It is proposed to lower the heighth of the retaining wall to 6.7 feet, and it will extend from a short distance eas of State street to a point several feet west of E street. The parks and walks on each side of the street will be 30 feet wide end the wide and the park on the north side vill curve downward two and a half eet. The park on the south side will be perfectly level. The paving on each in width and will curve downward one and three-fourth feet. The decrease in the heighth of the retaining wall and the increase in width of the parking will materially decrease the cost of the

Entertained by Prest, and Wife.

Oyster Bay, July 13,-President and Mrs. Roosevelt entertained a large party at luncheon today at Sagamore Hill. In addition to Seey, Root and the house guests, the party included Archbishop Farley, John D. Crimmins, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick W. Hollis, all of New York, and Judge Brentano and Civil Service Commissioner A. W. Cooley.

It was announced that the visit of Archbishop Farley was prompted by a desire to pay his respects to the presi-dent, but as he was accompanied by Mr. Crimmins, who is prominent in Catholic church affairs, it is quite cer tain that matters in which both the ested were discussed. It is known in act that Catholic questions in the Phil ppines were considered, the presence Secy. Root adding materially to a ful and free discussion of the subject. The visit of other members of the party was purely social.
